“ Judy, Bob taught me how to bass fish. That first day we all met at the park to head out to alligator alley was the first of many, many, days Bob taught me how to bass fish. You guys always had room for me in your home when I wanted to come meet Bob to fish. Countless times we fished together I will never forget and the hospitality of family you guys showed me will always be with me! Thank you Judy for the friendship and countless times of home cooking!!! RIP my friend, you are always in my heart!!!! MUCH LOVE, PAT RAPP

“ Thank you Pat, all of you guys were like family and we felt truly blessed to have you in our home. Bob enjoyed the fishing time with all of you too. We both also enjoyed visiting with your families at your homes. You were all like sons to us. Much Love to you also Pat.

“ Judy. Bob was like my second dad, I treasured I the times we spent together fishing and talking. Even today when I drive past a city or a lake that we were at I think of him. I will miss my friend.

“ Judy, we were all blessed when Lynne arrived and booked a fishing trip with Bob as our guide. Little did we know that that day would be the beginning of a friendship that would result in so many fishing stories that I have told my kids; the beginning of making friendships with Pat Rapp, Kevin Brown, and Greg Colbrunn. I am celebrating a life that gave back so much to so many on the waterways of Florida's bass fishing waters. Thank you, Judy, for being a special part of that friendship that turned into family.
The Hammond's love you.
