Susan (Sue) was born in Somerville, Massachusetts to Alma and Roger Perkins on August 29, 1947. She was an only child and grew up in Waltham, MA where her father was in the funeral home business. Her summers were spent along the Annisquam River in Gloucester, MA where her grandparents had a cottage on the river and after her parents were more established, they too bought a home on the river steps away from her grandparents. Sue's parents owned sailboats through the years and went on many sailing adventures up and down the coast of New England which is when Sue developed her passion for sailing. After graduating from high school, Sue went on to Beverly School of Nursing in Beverly, MA. where she graduated as a Registered Nurse. She soon after met and married Thomas Feehan from Arlington, MA and had two daughters, Lori and Debby. Sue and Tom later divorced allowing Sue to pursue her many adventures on the sea. She grew up on boats since the time she was an infant and at one time was even working toward obtaining her 100-ton Captains License. She was a sailor at heart but crewed aboard Whale watching and Deep-sea fishing vessels as they made their way from Cape Ann in New England down to Key West for the winters. Susan worked as a Registered Nurse for for over 50 years. She worked as a Registered Nurse in some of the most respected hospitals and facilities in the Boston area before moving to Florida in 2001 to be close to her daughters. She retired in 2015 as the supervisor of the Rose team at Hospice of Palm Beach where she was beloved by her coworkers. Driven by her empathy for others, Sue was passionate about continuing to grow as a care giver and healer. She became a Reiki Master and continued her quest to help others through her energy work along with her traditional nursing education and experience. She was described by others as vivacious, funny, loving, supportive, loyal, and passionate. Sue was 'Nana' to not only her own grandchildren, but to so many others.

Sue is preceded in death by her mother, father, daughter Lori and her cousin Dean.

Sue is survived by her daughter Debby, Son in law Al, Grandchildren: Cody Sando, Megan Makara, Summer Giasullo, Carly Michael, and step Grandchildren: Logan and Nick Tafur, Cousins: Charlie Austin, Jimmy Rogers and Judy McAfee

The family of Sue wishes to extend our sincere thanks to Dr. James Smith, Joann, Lisa and all of the loving staff at Vitas hospice that that helped care for her in her final weeks as well as all of her loving friends, family and former co workers that surrounded her with love and grace.

“ I worked with Sue many years ago at Hospice of Palm Beach County. Although she was never my supervisor, she was always so sweet and helpful to me. What a nice lady....

“ My favorite memory of Sue will always be my visit to MA and her being my tour guide. We had so much fun! Her humor had me laughing constantly, especially her banter with Debby. You could tell they are one in spirit. I've held onto those memories always hoping to get back out there to make more. Looking forward to the eternal memories to one day be made in the Heavenlies Love you Sue Love you Deb

“ My summers growing up on the Annisquam River in Gloucester were such fun..especially playing with Sue. Her grandparents lived next door to mine so we saw her a lot on the weekends. Then even more when her parents bought a cottage just a few houses away. I always loved her spirit and boundless energy and I know how much she is loved.
